ROSSNEY PEAR.

The best and handsomest pear yet produced. Hardy and productive. Ripens two weeks after Bartlett. Strong grower. Luther Burbank, the most noted horticulturist of the age, says under date of October 5, 1895: "The samples of Rossney Pear arrived in due season. The large size, handsome form, and creamy yellow skin with crimson blush gives the fruit a tempting appearance; and the tender, creamy flesh, of just the right texture, with no hard spots and an unusually small core, with its superior flavor, makes it about the best pear so far seen. If the tree is vigorous, healthy, and productive, would prefer it to any other, even the standards, Bartlett or Seckel." (Samples of Rossney pear received by us September 1, 1900, from Salt Lake, Utah, were in perfect condition, large and as fine pears as one could wish for, richly colored and of excellent quality and should be thoroughly tested. If it proves adapted to this locality it will certainly prove to be one of our best varieties. A. & H.)

PACKING MATERIAL.

For about five years we have been using EXCELSIOR (not shingle toe from the sawmills), but a much finer and, we think, far superior article, being an off-grade from the regular excelsior factories, for our packing, and have found that shipments so packed reach destination in best condition, regardless of distance, either home shipments or exportations, and that for use in packing away stock in storage cellars it is FAR SUPERIOR to the best moss; does not HEAT under any conditions; no MOULD or FUNGUS; keeps stock damp, fresh and in best condition, and is far cheaper than moss.

For the past two or three years we have been furnishing some of the leading nurseries of the United States with this material, and it has so pleased them that their orders (amounting this season to forty car loads) have increased more rapidly than we have been able to supply, and while we can not at this time offer any more in car-load lots for immediate shipment (though we have some twenty mills putting it up for us), we are able to accept orders for later shipment in car lots. For present use we will be able to furnish only small quantity. It is perfectly dry and put up in good solid bales, averaging about 100 to 120 lbs. Parties ordering early and accepting shipment when material is ready, will be most certain of having their wants supplied. Order now for next fall and winter use.

Prices in small lots, 65c per bale, 50 bales $25.00.

Prices in car-load lots quoted on application.

A FEW SPECIAL VARIETIES.

ARNOLD PEAR.—Originated near Danville, Ind. Original tree 45 or 50 years old. Free from blight, hardy and a good grower. Fruit above medium, of good quality; by many pronounced of best quality. Ripens throughout the winter and lasting till May or June in ordinary cellar. One of the best winter pears.

HENRY PEAR.—Grown from French pear seed, planted in spring of 1871, by Henry C. Henry, of Effingham county, Ill. Commenced bearing in 1877 or 1878. Has never shown any sign of leaf or twig blight. It is a regular and abundant bearer, and in quality has no superior, if an equal, among the good keeping winter pears. Resembles Bartlett very much in size, shape and flavor. Is a good keeper, a rich yellow in color, and without a peer in quality among the winter pears. A good grower in nursery. Prices on page 4.

MO. MAM. QUINCE.—The largest good and the best big quince grown. Very hardy and productive. Fruit of largest size, often weighing 20 to 24 ounces. A rich golden yellow, ripening just ahead of the orange, but keeps well. Flesh fine and exceedingly tender, cooking as nicely as an apple, and with an exceedingly mild, pleasant flavor. Brings highest prices in market.

McPIKE GRAPE.—Fruit of largest size, often the single grape measuring $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches. Bunch compact, of good size; quality excellent; seeds few and small; pulp melting and parts from seed readily; ripens with Worden. Vine a vigorous grower, hardy; foliage perfect, of Concord type.

This is certainly destined to take front rank in our long list of native grapes.

In August our Mr. Albertson had the pleasure of visiting Mr. McPike's grounds and seeing the McPike grape growing in vineyard with some 60 other of our best kinds, and, though under apparently same conditions, excelling all others and apparently doing equally as well where growing in the grass. Many berries were measured which calipered $1\frac{1}{8}$ to $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches and in quality almost all that could be desired.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The POMONA Currant has proven a business currant, yielding almost double the fruit of Fay's Prolific and Cherry. A prominent fruit grower, after seeing the Pomona for two years, and he had several acres of Fay's Prolific and Cherry, said, "Pomona is the currant; I will plant no other."

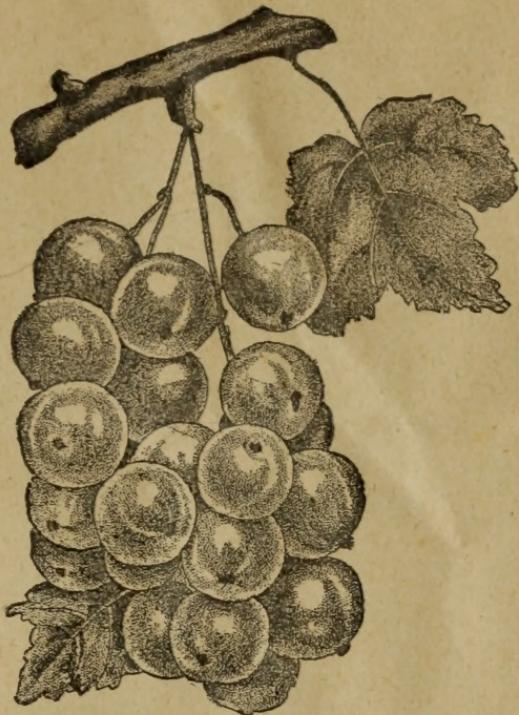

Yours, etc.,

A. L. Wood.

S. B. LEWIS, of Lockport, N. Y., again reports that POMONA excels everything else on his grounds in productiveness, and is of best quality. Growing beside it were the old standard sorts, including Fays, also the new sorts including Wilder and other best kinds.

POMONA Currant.

All Former Records Broken. No Competitor.

ATLANTIC, Iowa, July 28, 1900.

A. & H.:

GENTLEMEN: From my experience of several years, I am led to believe that the POMONA currant is the most valuable red currant that is before the public to-day.

At the Iowa State Horticultural Meeting held in Des Moines, Iowa, last December, I noticed all Experiment station keepers that tested the POMONA currant report without exception it is the best red currant they ever tested.

SILAS WILSON.

If you do not have a good stock of GENUINE POMONA you had better get them soon, and be sure they are GENUINE.

In one year the crop of fruit from $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres of POMONA CURRANTS was sold at wholesale for over \$4,076.00 or over \$627.00 per acre.

In three consecutive years, the fruit from this same $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres of POMONA CURRANTS was sold at wholesale for \$9,000, making over \$1,384.00 or over \$461.00 per acre per year.

In one year the fruit from this $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres of POMONA CURRANTS was sold for over \$3,400.00, yet of the 83 rows making the $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres, 19 rows were planted 5 years, 41 rows 3 years, and 23 rows 2 years, making the average time these had been planted less than $3\frac{1}{2}$ years, and the 60 rows first planted had borne a heavy crop in the previous year.

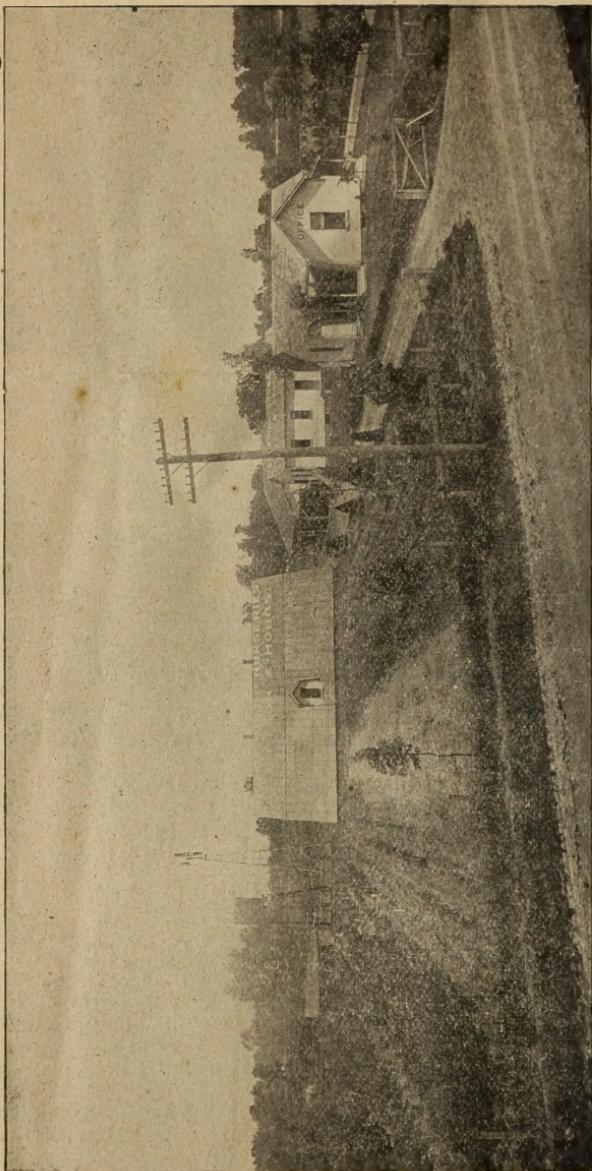

READ WHAT THEY SAY OF IT THIS YEAR.

Albertson & Hobbs, Bridgeport, Ind.:

LOCKPORT, N. Y.

We have the Pomona currant growing by the side of Prince Albert of the same age. A prominent Rochester, N. Y., and also an Iowa nurseryman, have both been here this week, and both agreed there is double the fruit on the Pomona that there is on the Prince Albert, and it is larger. It is surely out-yielding the Fay, which I had not thought possible. In fact, there is no kind on the place to match it in yield, and only the Cherry and Fay beat it in size. It must be in demand when it becomes known.

Yours, E. B. LEWIS.
